My most significant experience as a seminarian has been able to feel the love and appreciation of all the people no matter where I go. In any state that I have visited, when somebody finds out that I am a seminarian, they open their arms and they want to just talk. It is such a blessing to be able to hear everybody's story, to be able to just be there for them and be able to be an inspiration for them, and in turn have them to be an inspiration for me as well.
