To be able to help the Holy Spirit (because HE is the one who does everything) to build God's Kingdom on earth is a very special honor. I can't explain with words what it is to be invited to work with and for Him, I can only say that I am very happy because He has called me; despite my defects and my mistakes He has trusted me and in me. I only ask Him to help me stand firm against the tide and achieve the goal.

The vocation that I have received is that special hug from God. Working for Him is the best thing that could ever happen. His love is infinite.
